OVATION TO TAFT, COAST MEN PLAN

As Nearly Non-Political as Possible, Is the Idea.

Business Men to Take Principal Part in Receptions.

Preparations for a monster and prolonged Taft-Roosevelt demonstration that will be a surprise to the entire country, cause leaders of both of the big political parties to sit up and take no tice and be more than a nine days' topic everywhere, are under way on the Pacific Coast. The preparations are for a continuous ovation for Secretary Taft from the time he reaches Oregon till he sails from Seattle for the Orient. This demonstration, it is pointed out, will be as nearly non-political in complexion as possible and will be for Taft personally and for him as the Roosevelt candidate for the Presidency. The hundred or more commercial organizations and dif-ferent clubs that are now planning to co-operate in this demonstration are said to be almost a unit for Roosevelt for a third term, or, if he should decline to run, for the man of his choice. They recognize Secretary Taft as that man.

Business Men Take Part.

Plans for this demonstration are not made known for the first time. Friends of Secretary Taft in Washington, who are assisting in the plans have assurance that the leading commercial and other representative business and pro-

The Secretary's itinerary through Oregon and Washington has been changed to conform with these plans. It was completed yesterday and telegranted last night, and the Taft crowd here has wired for the Pacific people to go ahead, get busy and boast things up to their hearts' content. In Seattle the Tafts will stop with ex-Senator Wilson, proprietor of the Post-Intelligencer, and during Monday Secretary Taft will be under the personal escort of Col. I. A. Nadeau, director general of the exposition company.

A keen rivalry over the privilege of entertaining the Secretary of War has sprung up in Seattle. It develops that a Taft club of several hundred members has been organized the past few days, and they demand opportunity to give him a big boost themselves. It is likely they will manage to get in some-where along the line.
